

Vic Juris Short Bio:

"And Vic Juris has been a total monster ever since we both hit the scene at around the same time in the 70's, playing great no matter what the setting. But he has taken the knowledge gained from a long stay in Dave Liebman's band to form a really new way of thinking about melody and harmony on the guitar. His playing is always musical and his pure mastery of the instrument is something to behold." Pat Methany

Vic Juris is hailed as one of the premier guitarist of the 21st Century with an undeniable command of the acoustic and electric guitar. As growing up as a child prodigy he has performed at a young age with Dizzy Gillespie, Phil Woods, Ron Carter, Sonny Stitt, Jimmy Scott, Michele LeGrand, Freddie Hubbard, Sarah Vaughan, Eddie Jefferson and Nancy Wilson. Vic has been a member of the Davie Liebman band for 20 years, part of the Gary Peacock Group, Rufus Reid's Quite Pride and performed with Joe Lovano, Joe Locke and many others. He is also a master of the duo with partnering with Phil Woods, Larry Coryell and vocalist Kate Baker.

Vic's 25 recordings have catapulted to the Top Ten Airplay Charts and have received widespread critical acclaim for his recordings. "A Second Look" Mel Bay Records, "Free Admission", "Walking on Water", Blue Horizon, Night Tripper to name a few.

The Vic Juris Trio has a developed fans from across the globe with it's innovative arrangements, brilliant originals, organic grooves and extraordinary ability to cross genres. In NY, the trio is with Adam Nusbaum and Jay Anderson. The latest CD is being released September "Blue" on Steeplechase Records.
